3-2. How do I get gallery certification?

The Pink Mark next to the gallery's nickname is given to an account certified by the Piki Market.

Account certification mark can be granted or removed according to verification and loss policies.

This certification mark is an important mark given only to verified accounts except for fake accounts in the Piki Market.

Trust and purchase artworks created by accounts with certification marks.

1. Verification policy

- 1) Active accounts that have purchased or sold one or more pieces within the past month
- 2) Account whose email address is verified
- 3) Account for which profile pictures and banners are verified
- 4) Account certified by another existing artwork market
- 5) Accounts at high impersonation risk or requiring fast authentication
- 6) An account of great artistic, technical, social innovation or merit.

An account that has already been certified can lose its certification mark at any time if it acts to disqualify it.

In addition, Piki Market reserves the right to remove the certification mark of the account at any time, for any reason, without prior notice.

2. Loss policy

- 1) Accounts that violate the service terms and conditions
- 2) Accounts using copyrighted content
- 3) Where there is a history of being reported, the account where the report is reasonable

3-3. How do I set up the Gallery?

During the registration process, your personal gallery will be automatically created, and a default nickname will be set for you. You can change your nickname, set a profile image, a banner image, and even customize your unique gallery domain. If you wish to modify your gallery information, you can select the "Edit" option to make the desired changes.

4-2. How can I add a Series that I'm interested in?

You can use the Bookmark feature to collect the Series that you are interested in. Go to the page of the Series that you're interested in and add it to your Bookmark List. The Series that you have bookmarked can be viewed in "My Gallery" > "Bookmarked Series".

5-1. What are the benefits of recording an artwork on the blockchain?

By using XTO602, a blockchain technology, it can serve as a "certificate of authenticity" for the work. Simply put, any form of digital content such as images, videos, audio, GIFs, etc. can be given a unique value and recorded on the blockchain, allowing for a form of "digital certification of authenticity" as something that "exists only once in the world".

Even if the same digital content file is duplicated, each work is distinguished by assigning unique values to each of them as their individual values. At this point, the ownership and transaction history of the work are recorded and stored on the blockchain, allowing the original creator to be identified at any time. It is impossible to forge the work because it cannot be arbitrarily altered by anyone.

5-2. How are artworks distinguished?

Artworks are broadly divided into two types: Digital and Physical.

Digital works refer to works based on digital files.

For example, a unique ID is assigned to an image file, and all information such as the source, distribution process (sales history), owner, etc. of the file is stored. It becomes a scarce digital asset token that is irreplaceable and has no duplicates.

Physical works refer to works that are based on physical objects.

Since they are based on physical objects, the artwork has a stake in the physical object.

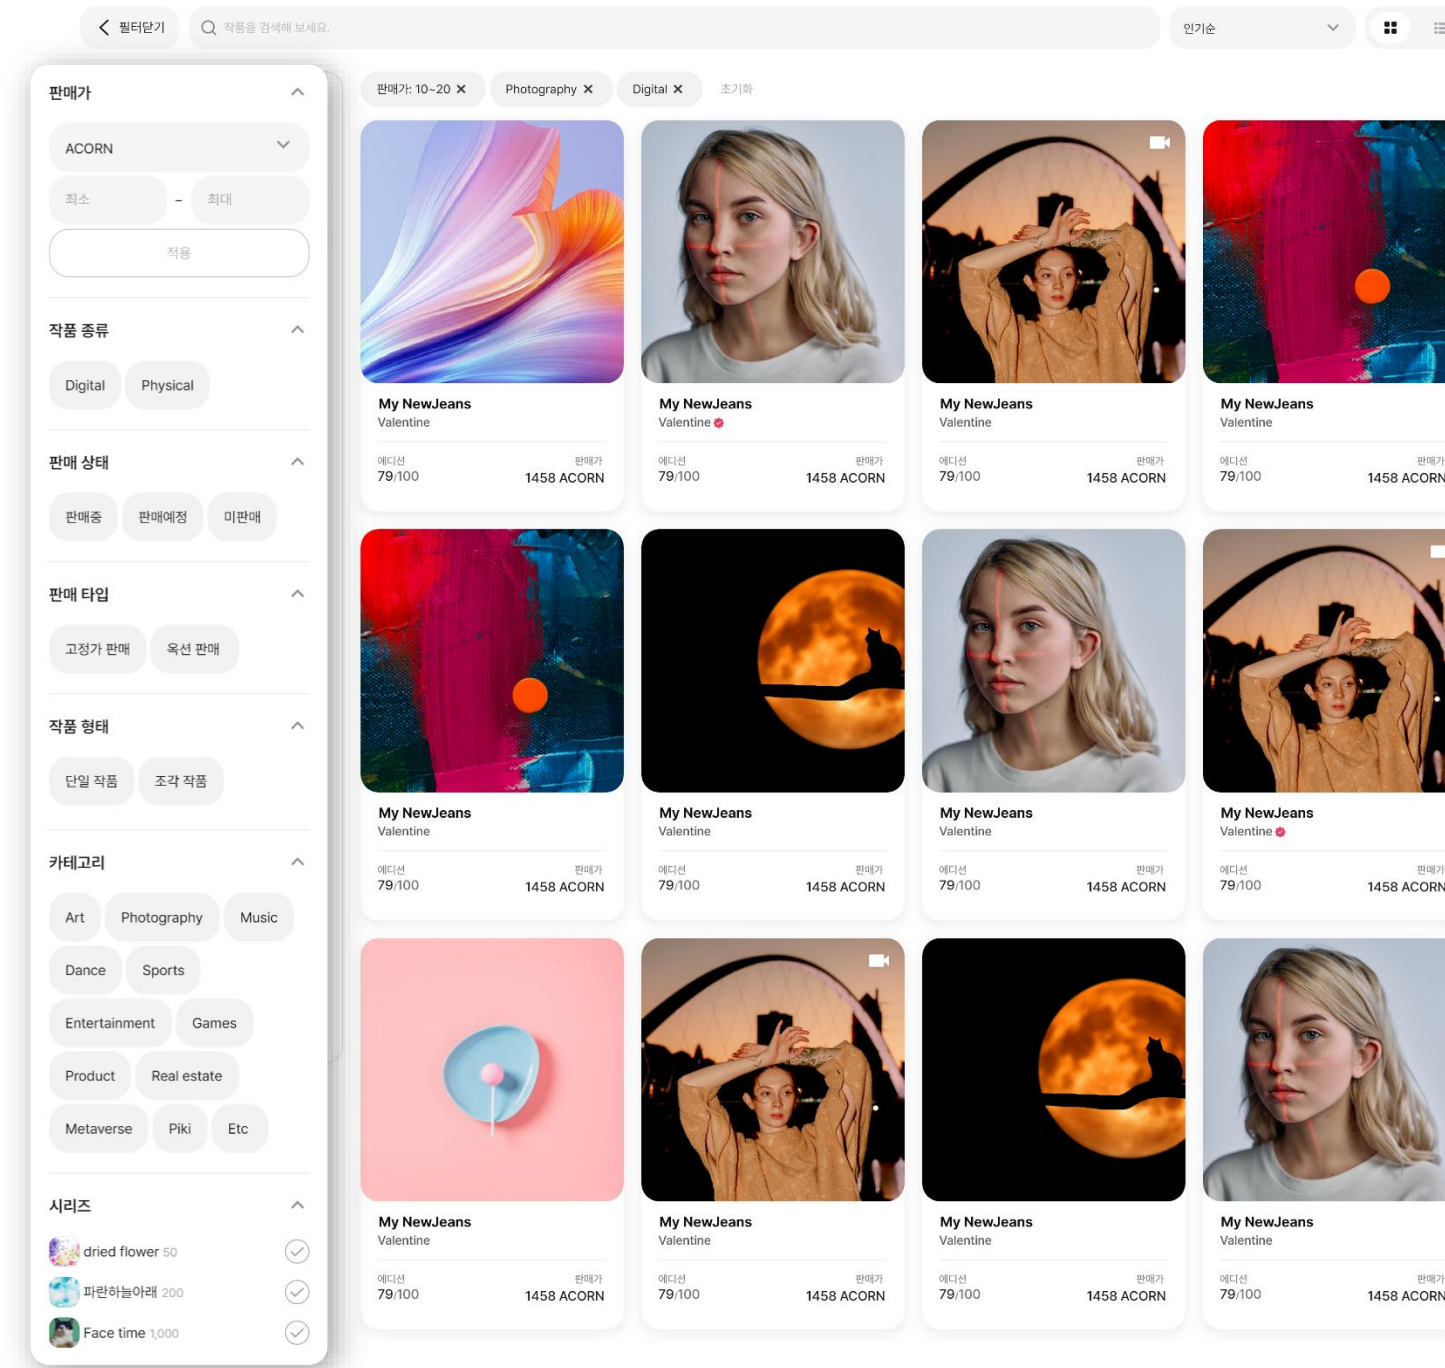

Think of it as "the owner of the work has a stake in the physical object."

Users can receive the physical product and own it.

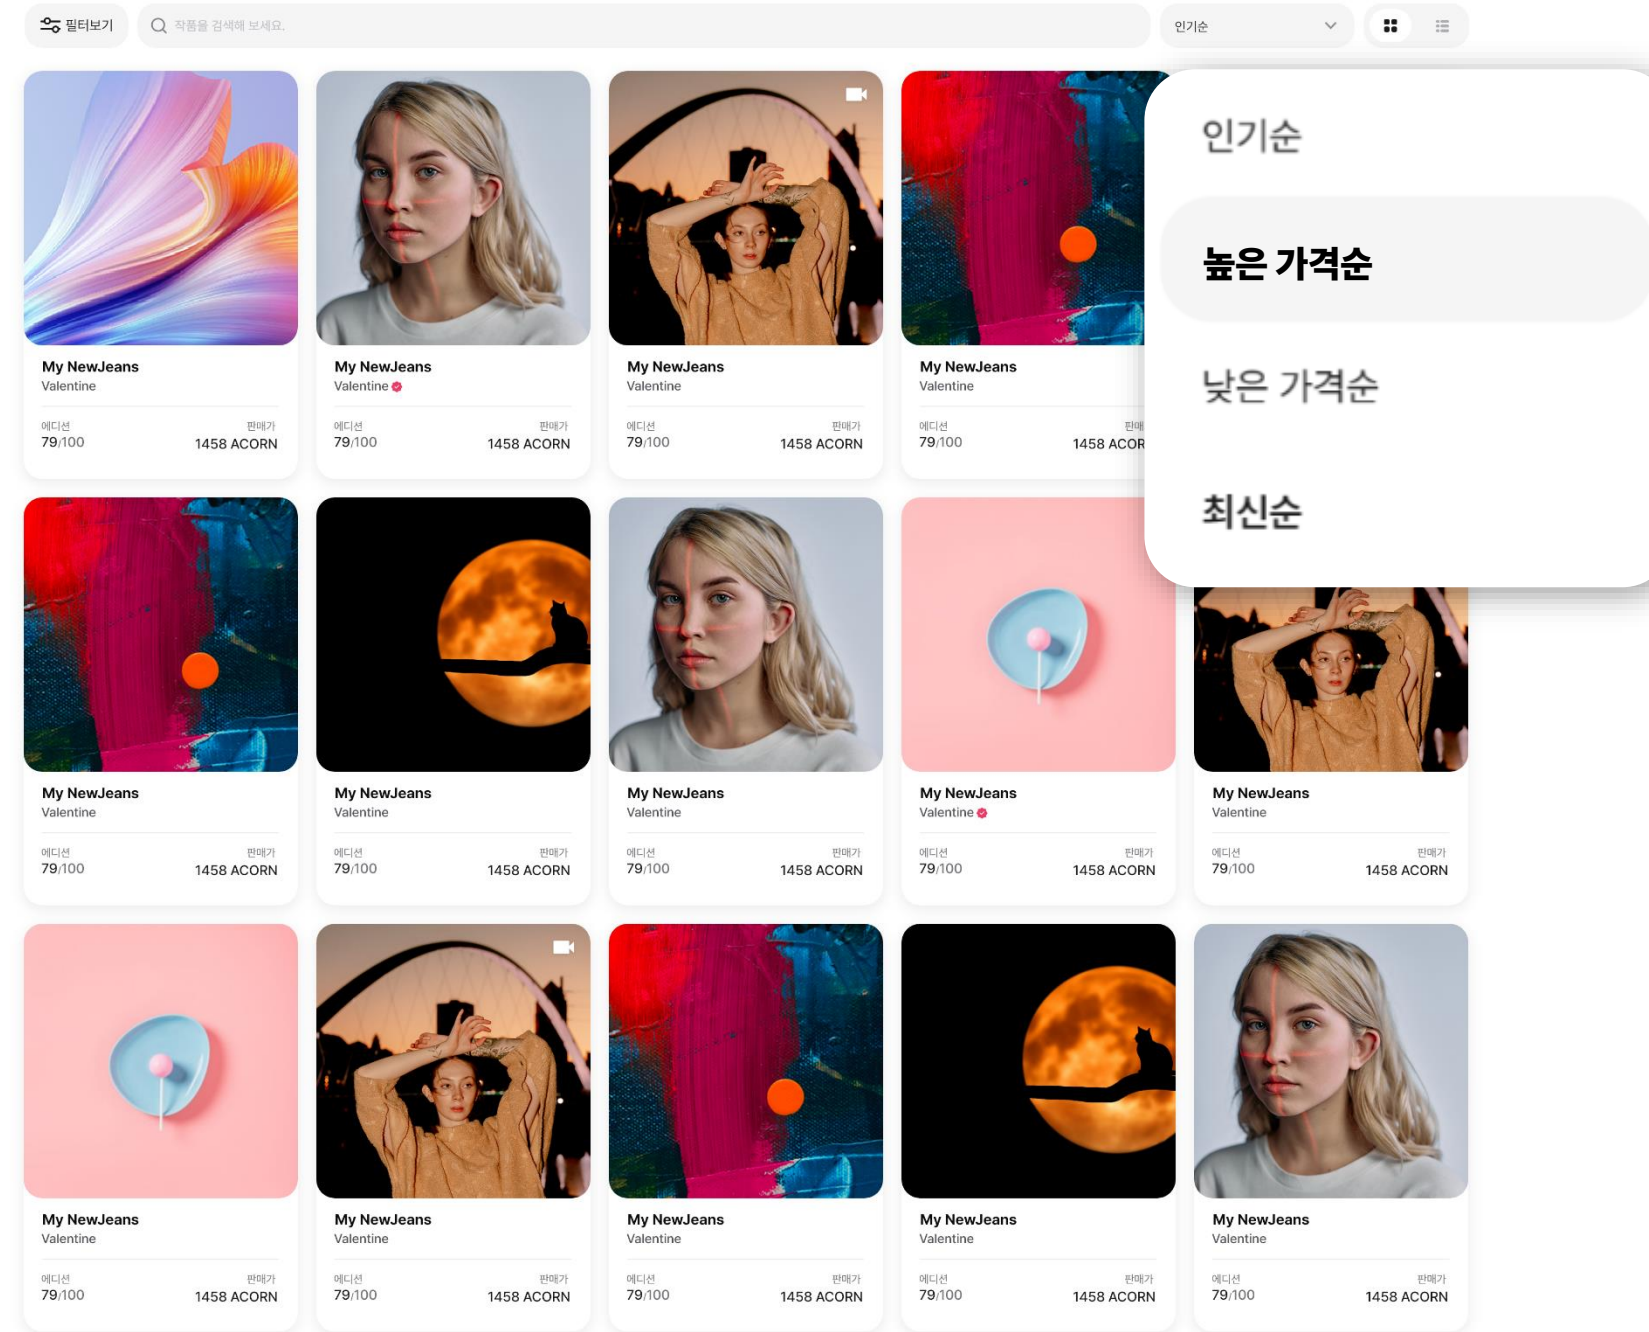

5-3. How do I explore artwork?

If you know the information of the work you are looking for accurately, try using the search bar.
If you have a preference for a specific work, you can quickly select it by using the desired filter value in the filter on the left side of the page.

If you want to explore in more detail, you can use the sorting criteria dropdown menu to select search ranges by popularity, high price, low price, or newest.

6-1. How do I create artwork?

New artwork can be created through the artwork creation menu. All created artworks are recorded on the blockchain.

You can move to the artwork creation screen by clicking on the artwork creation tab in the top menu.

Currently, Piki Market supports two types of artworks - Digital and Physical - and two types of creation forms - Single and Bulk.

Types of Artwork

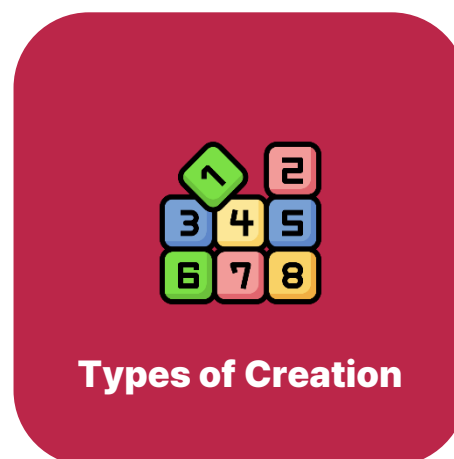

Digital

: A digital form of artwork that can be traded digitally by turning it into a digital file.

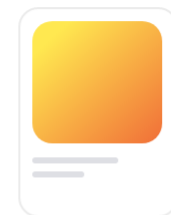

Physical :

A physical form of artwork that has been turned into an artwork, allowing not only digital artwork but also actual products to be shipped.

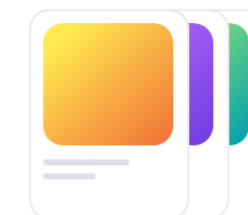

Types of Creation

Single Creation

: Creating one artwork at a time.

Bulk Creation

: Creating multiple artworks at once.

Select the types of the artwork and creation, upload the original file of the artwork, and enter the title and description of the artwork.

The creation quantity is divided into two types: Single and Fractions.

For a single artwork, you can set the edition quantity, and for a fraction artwork, you can set the number of pieces.

Note that the original file and title of the artwork cannot be modified due to the nature of the blockchain, so please double-check before proceeding with the creation.

6-2. How can I modify information for a created artwork?

Once a artwork is created, it is recorded on the blockchain.

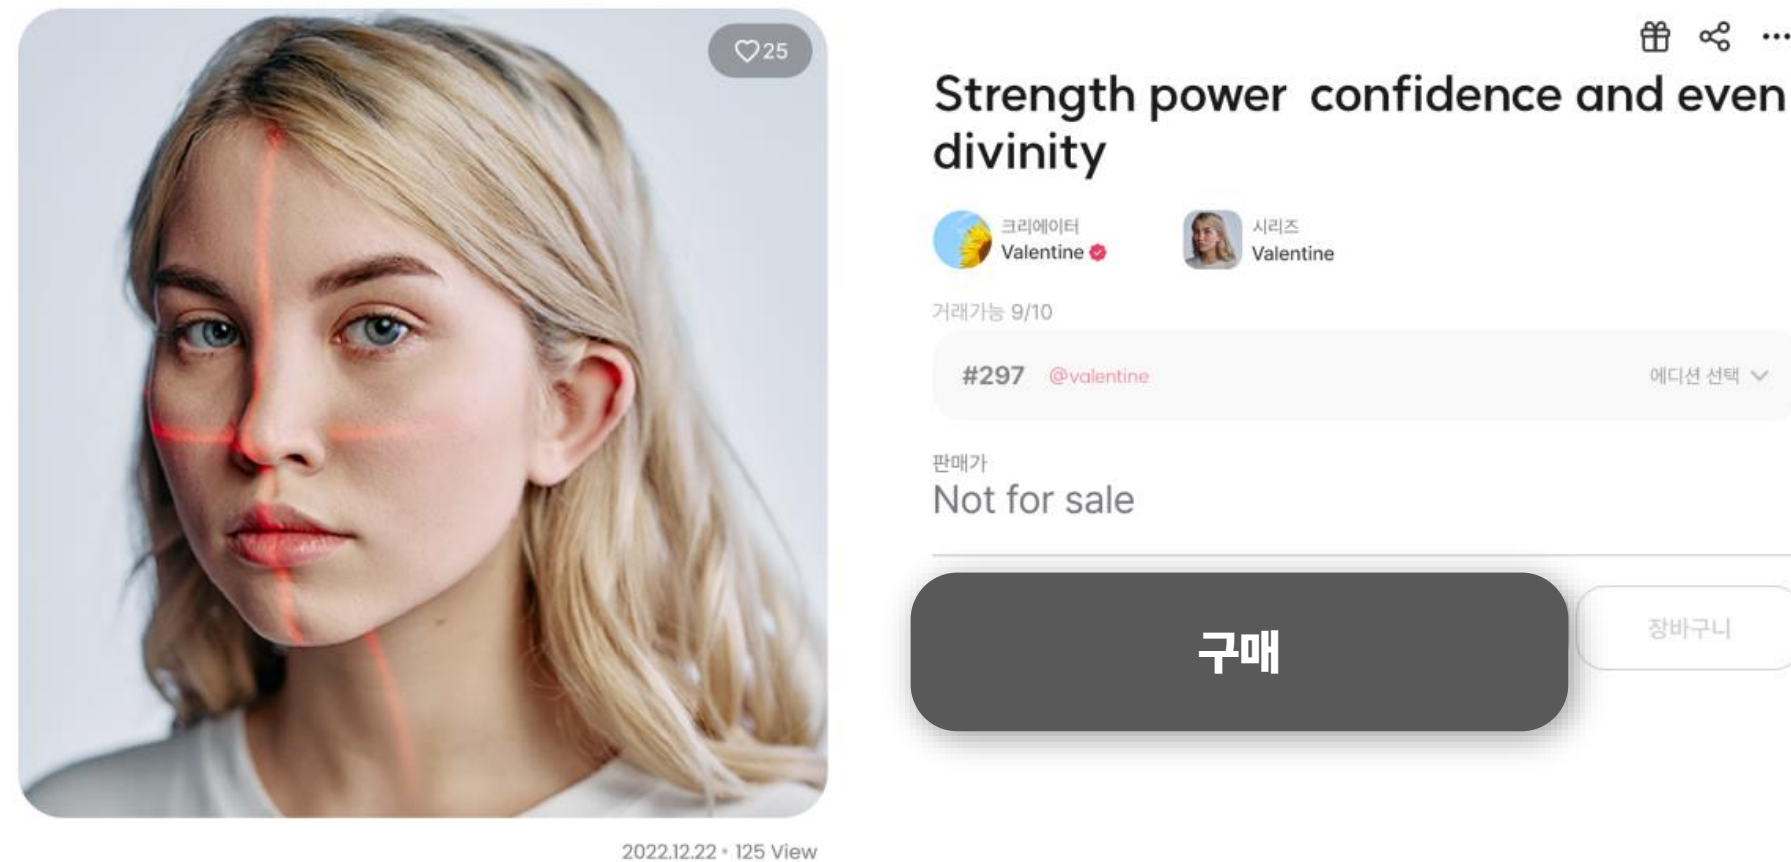

Due to the nature of the blockchain supported by the Piki Market, the original artwork cannot be modified. But basic information such as the title, description, category, hashtag, Series, and royalty of the artwork can be changed. It can only be modified before the artwork is registered.

7-1. How can I know the status of purchasing artwork?

The status of the artwork can be divided into three categories: Not for sale / For sale soon / For sale.

1) Not for sale: This refers to the state before the current owner registers the artwork for sale.

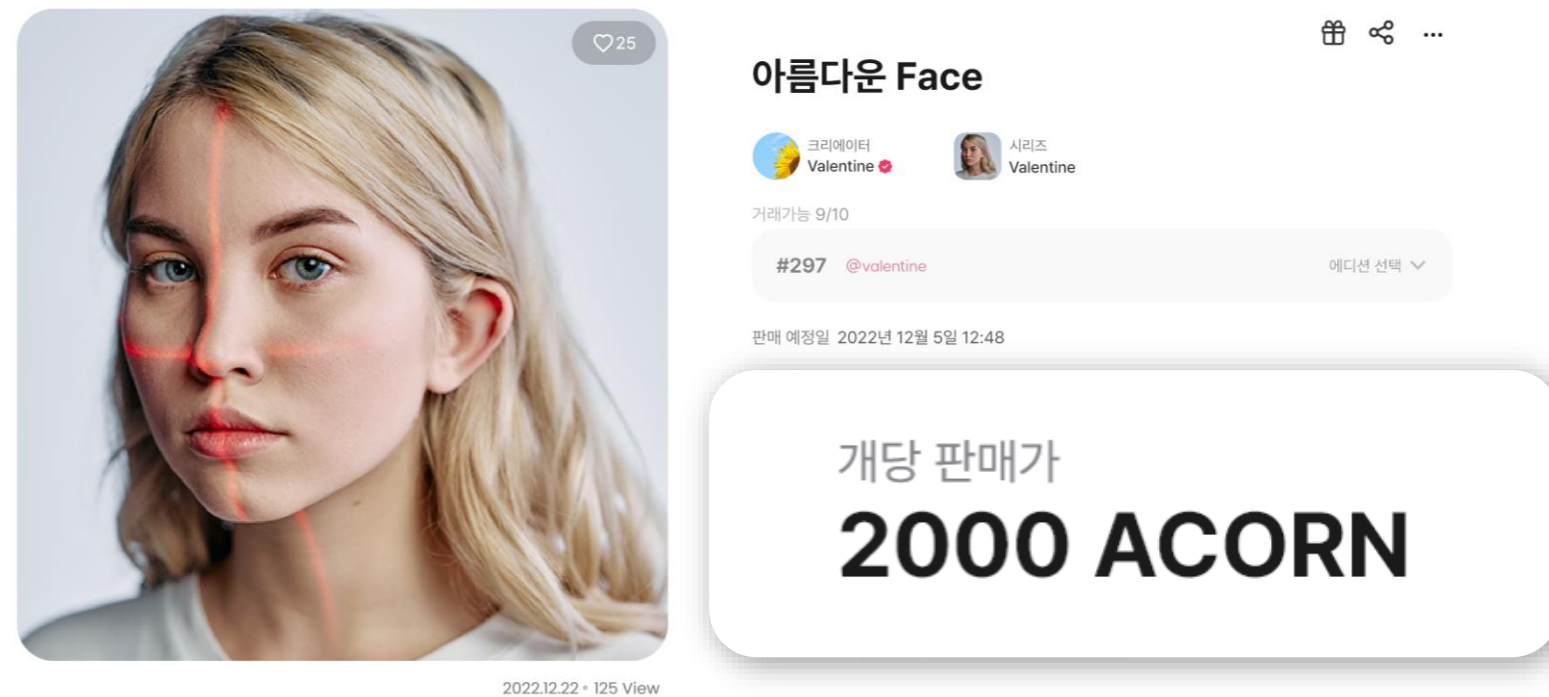

In this state, the purchase button is disabled, and buyers cannot purchase the artwork.

The status of the artwork can be divided into three categories: Not for sale / For sale soon / For sale.

2) For sale soon : When the owner registers a work for sale and the sale start date has not passed based on the current time, the status is displayed as "For sale soon" along with the price and time until the sale begins.

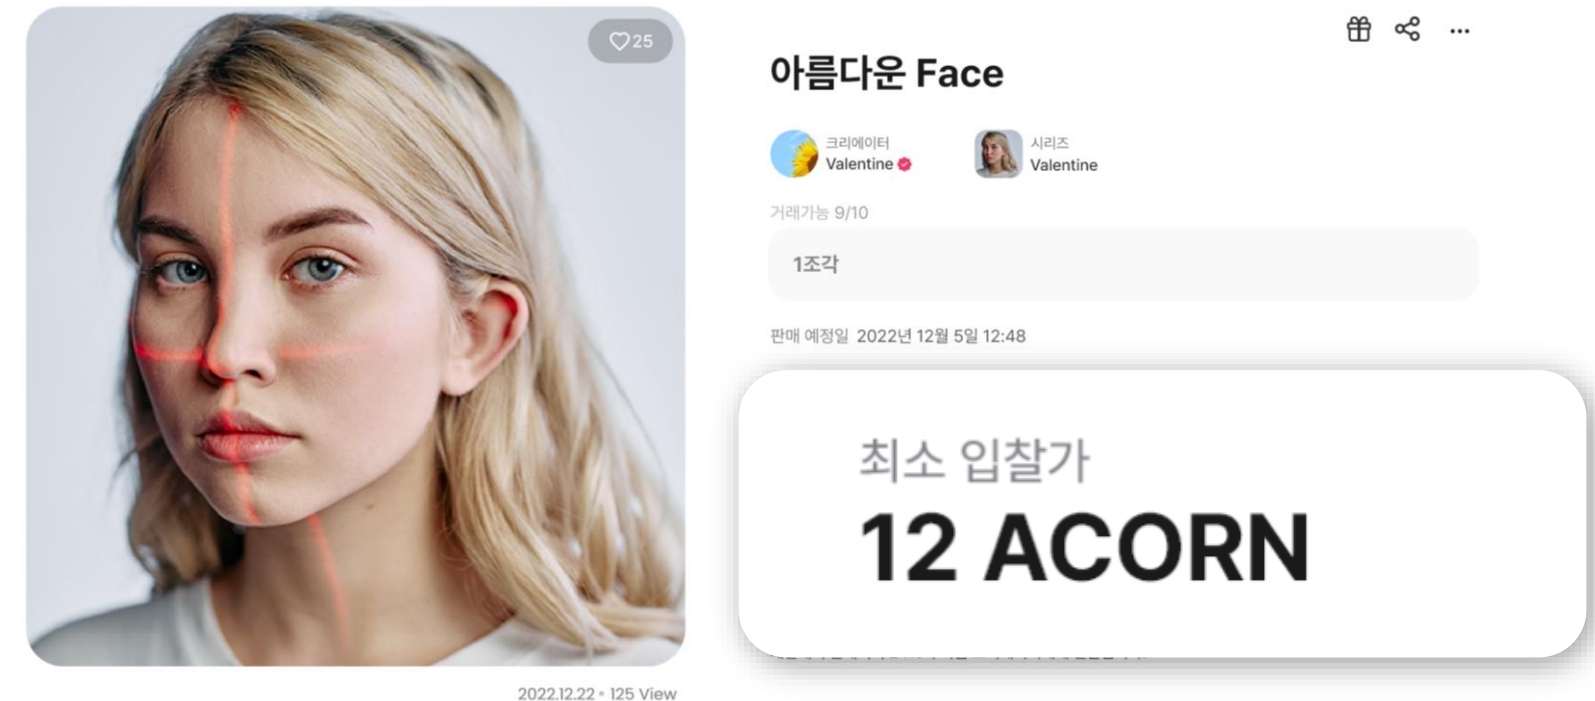

1_ Fixed price:

When registering sales, the owner specifies the price.

2_ Auction:

When registering sales, the owner specifies a minimum bid.

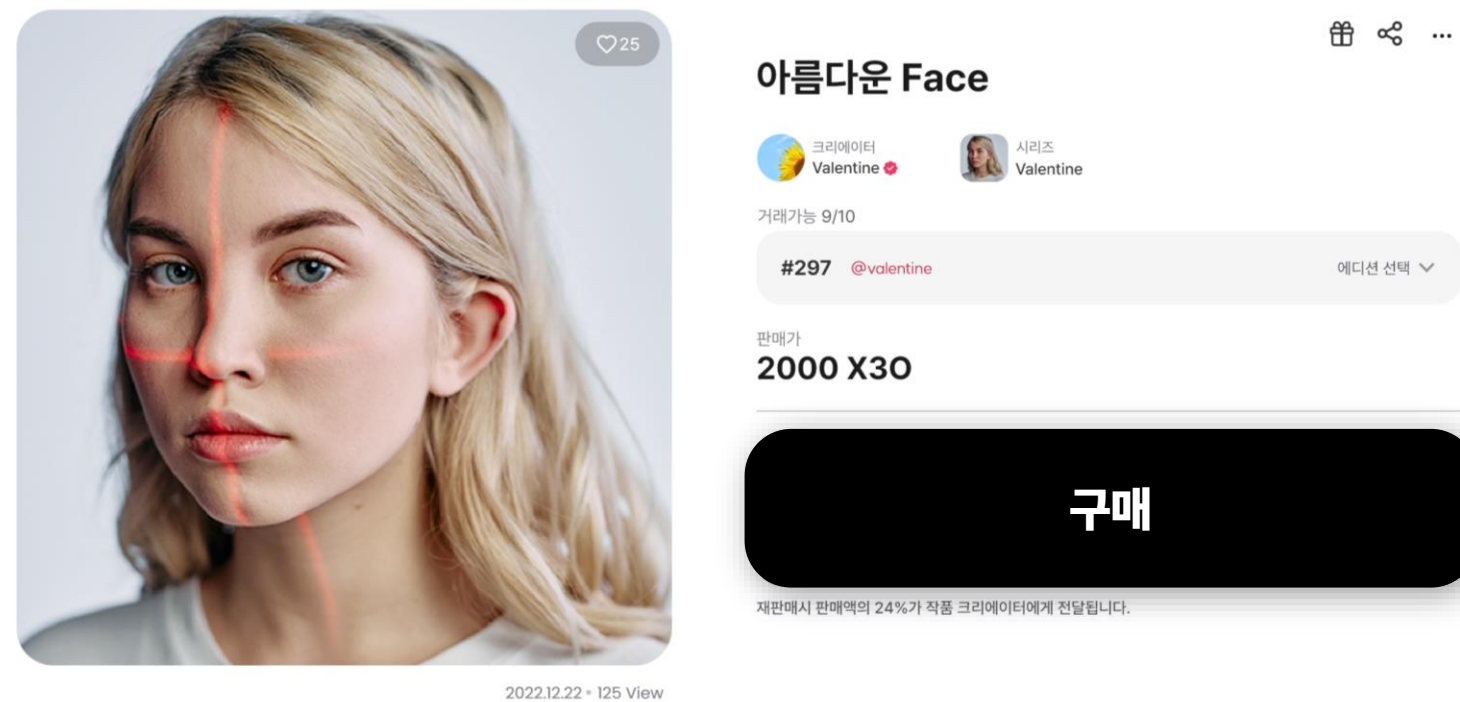

Once the sale start date has passed based on the current time, the status will change to "For sale," and buyers can purchase the work.

The status of the artwork can be divided into three categories: not for sale / for sale soon / for sale.

3) For sale: When the start date of the sale has passed based on the current time, the status will be displayed as "For Sale" with the price and end time of the sale.

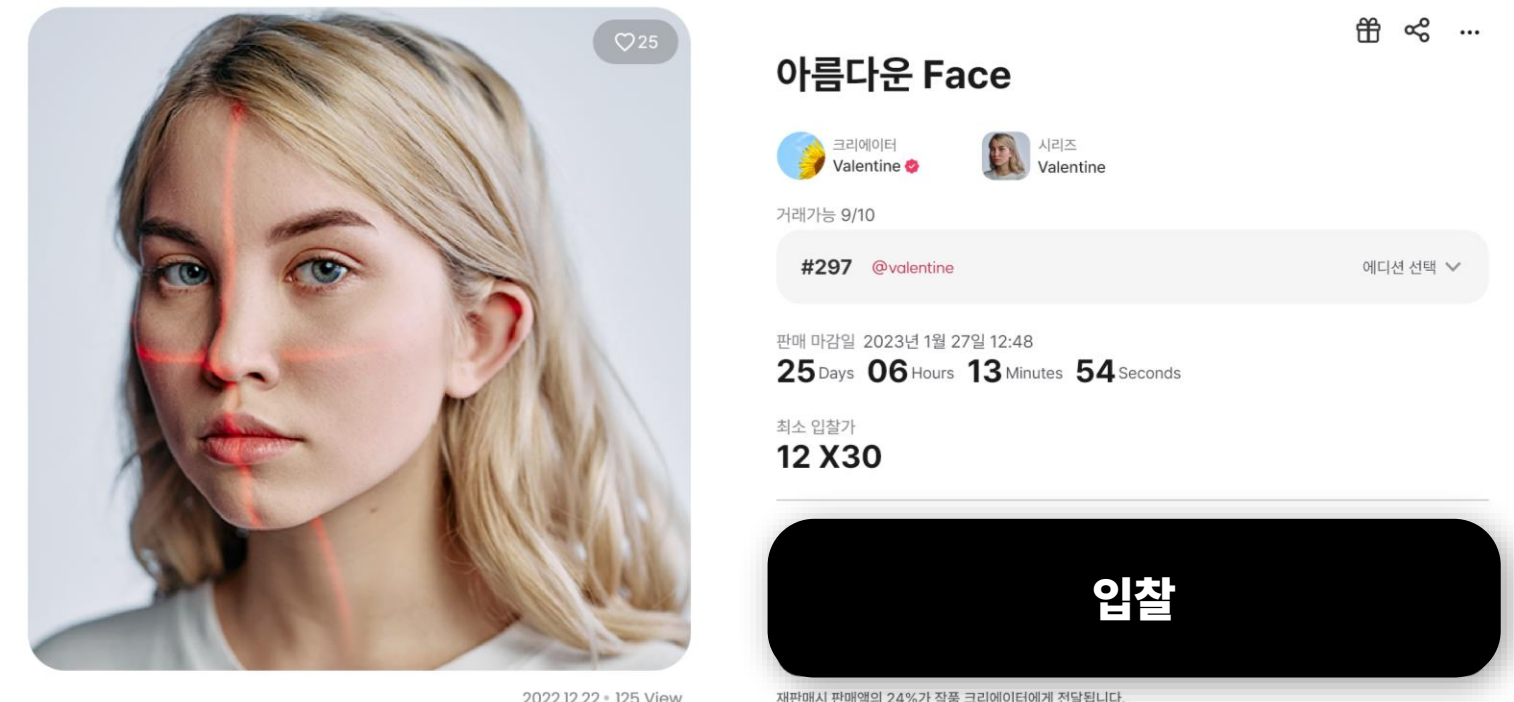

1_ Fixed price:

When registering sales, the owner specifies the price.

2_ Auction:

All artworks can be purchased using ACORN(point) held in my wallet. You can safely store and manage your artworks in my wallet. You can check the purchased artworks in My Gallery > My artwork.

2) Fraction :

After selecting the piece and the number of pieces you wish to purchase, press the purchase tab to proceed with the purchase.

For physical artworks, please enter the shipping address where you will receive the actual product at the time of purchase.

10. Is there a fee?

The amount that creators ultimately receive is the total commission deducted from the artwork price, which includes the sales registration fee and creator royalty.

1) Sales registration fee

All transactions, including trading artworks, are carried out through the blockchain network. The sales registration fee is a fee charged when registering an artwork for sale on the blockchain network. When the sale is completed, the fee is deducted along with the creator's royalty for settlement. The sales fee may vary up to 10%, and any changes will be announced on the service screen later.

2) Creator royalty

Creator royalty is a commission given to the creator who originally created a traded work, rather than being a service. The creator can set this commission when creating the work, and they will receive the royalty payment in proportion to the rate they have set when the work is sold. Creator royalty can be set between a minimum of 0% and a maximum of 30% when creating the work. Creator royalty can also be referred to as creator commission or secondary transaction commission.

11. What is wallet?

The wallet is an electronic wallet that securely deposits and withdraws cryptocurrency, as well as stores and transfers works.

The wallet address is a public key that allows everyone to know the user's wallet address, but knowing the user's wallet address does not give anyone the right to control their wallet.

The right to control the wallet can only be obtained if the user has a private key (master key), and it is crucial to protect the private key (master key).

Thank You.
